Highlights

Centrally located at the corner of Chatham Street and Princess Street, Unity Place is the sister project to the Unity Point development in the heart of a quickly developing social and retail hub in downtown Kingston. Collectively these two 11-storey buildings will redefine the gateway to the University and downtown Kingston. Conveniently located at the intersection of two arterial roads and only steps to Queen's University, the building offers great exposure to both pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

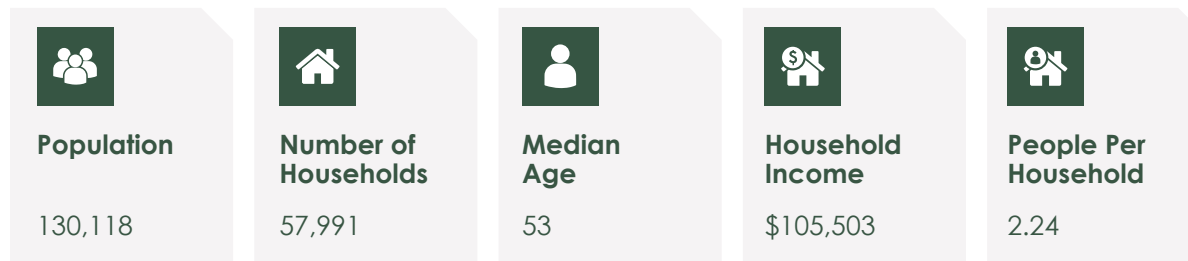

- Ground floor retail opportunities offer great exposure to downtown Kingston's busy main road.
